Musical Youth. Album of the year — Flashdance, Innocent Man, Let's Dance, Synchronicity, Thriller. TV 2, 8-11 p.m.

AMERICAN PLAYHOUSE: Refuge. The story of four people thrown together on a remote island off the coast of Maine, where each has come for solitude. Instead their meetings and contact with one another bring about betrayal and revenge. James Congdon, Alexandra O'Karma, Will Jefferies. TV 28, 9-10:30 p.m.

TAJ MAHAL. Documentary on the architectural marvel, built as a symbol of everlasting love. TV 28, 10:30-11 p.m.

DAVID LETTERMAN. Richard Lewis, Walt Garrison. TV 4, 12:30-1:30 a.m.

LOVIN' MOLLY (1974, Sydney Lumet). Larry (Terms of Endearment, Last Picture Show) McMurtry story of a free-spirited girl and the two men who loved her over the years. Anthony Perkins, Blythe Danner, Beau Bridges. TV 7, 1-2:30 a.m.

Wednesday, February 29

OKLAHOMA! (1955, Fred Zinnemann). Gordon MacRae, Shirley Jones, Eddie Albert and James Whitmore in a particularly saccharine Rodgers & Hammerstein musical. TV 5, 7:30-10 p.m.

SUPERSTARS OF VIDEO. More top 40 videos than you'd ever want to shake the proverbial stick at. You've got your Culture Club, DD, Police, Lauper, etc. etc. TV 13, 8-10 p.m.

GREAT PERFORMANCES. James Galway in concert with the New York Philharmonic. TV 28, 8-10 p.m.

BODY HUMAN. "Viewers see themselves as they have never seen themselves before — as complex creations in which the brain and physical body work together, the brain creating ideas and the body putting the ideas into physical form." TV 2, 8-9 p.m.

THE PARADE (1984). New TV movie. Preparations for the traditional Fourth of July parade in a small Kansas town form the backdrop for a powerful American family drama involving the lives of three generations of women. Michael Learned, Frederic Forrest, Rosanna Arquette, Maxwell Caulfield and Geraldine Page star. TV 2, 9-11 p.m.

WEE WILLIE WINKIE (1937). Wee lassie Shirley Temple hears the bagpipes a-blazing, steals the hearts of all India and wins the wee right to wear the Queen's plaid. TV 11, 2-4 a.m.

THE LITTLEST REBEL (1938). Possibly Shirley Temple's best. She aids her captive confederate daddy and dances for spare change with Bill "Bojangles" Robinson. TV 11, 4-6 a.m.

Thursday, March 1

MONTY PYTHON'S FLYING CIRCUS. TV 28, 8:30-9 p.m.

KING LEAR. Repeat of January's broadcast starring Laurence Olivier as Shakespeare's tragic ruler. The supporting cast includes Dorothy Tutin and Diana Rigg (call Durk Pearson) as evil daughters Goneril and Regan. Anna-Calder Marshall plays his faithful daughter Cordelia. John Hurt as the fool, Jeremy Kemp as Cornwall. TV 11, 8-11 p.m.

MYSTERY! Reilly Ace of Spies. Reilly arrives in Russia determined to overthrow the Bolsheviks. TV 28, 9-10 p.m.

THE LIGHT THAT FAILED (1940, William Wellman). Interesting Rudyard Kipling story stars Ronald Colman as a great painter who creates his all-time masterpiece and then goes blind. After he finds out his great canvas is destroyed, he seeks revenge. But forget all that. What you'll really want to see is Ida Lupino as the ultimate no-good tramp. TV 5, 1:30-3:30 a.m.

THE GODDESS (1958, John Cromwell). Paddy Chayefsky's indictment of empty success, American style. Kim Stanley as the Marilyn Monroe sexpot-nobody-loves-me star, starved for affection and fame (she wants to live forever). Patty Duke as Stanley as a young girl, the expected ludicrous Chayefsky dialogue. TV 11, 2-4:30 p.m.
